(House will not be open for Touring, but the Herb Shop will be)

Copper Beacons was built in the early 1800's by Allyn Boardman, it was one of the first "Grand Houses" in the Ithaca, New York area. It was built true to the style of Northern New England farmhouses, connecting structures in a "Big House, Little House, Outhouse, Barn" configuration. The house is situated on approximately 40 acres of prime farmland which has been continually under cultivation for the past 200 years. Bordered with hedgerows, it is sited ideally for establishing an organic environment.

The Copper Beacons Herb Shop opened in April 2007. An ideal gathering place at the farmhouse with a replica of a historic eighteenth century fireplace, it features culinary and decorative herbs for sale. Other items include loose tea and tea blends, tea and cooking accessories, herbal soaps and lotions, and craft items.

The Taughannock Farms Inn Compound is part of the historic fabric of the Finger Lakes. The main building was erected in 1873 as a private summer residence for John Jones of Philadelphia. The Jones family lived on the estate for 72 years. Mr. Jones deeded most of his estate to New York in the mid 1930’s so the State Park could be created. At about this time, rooms in the mansion were rented out and food service added. Merrit and Maude Agard bought the estate in 1945 and began operating it as an Inn. Taughannock Farms remained in the Agard family until 1997, when it was purchased by Susan and Tom Sheridan. In all this time, only three families have owned Taughannock Farms.
